Several friends of ours have told us,
Every time they've had a chance,
Not to hesitate to work hard when we're through;
Industry and frugality,
On us urged with every glance,
Returns, old School, for what we've had from you.
So the twenty-six new Seniors hope to be when they are gone:

HOME ONE

LEWIS GEORGE '28

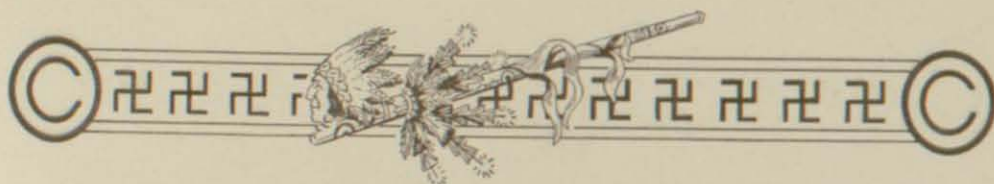

HE LARGE BOYS' DORMITORY was completed in 1899. It had then only about ten rooms, and the small boys were quartered in them. There was also a school room where the reading room now is. In 1903 additions were made to the south and north ends of the building. This made forty-three rooms. As years passed and the enrollment grew larger and larger, twenty-eight rooms were added to the south end of the old home, and two large dormitories on the west. Then after five years this almost full grown building was made the home for the small girls in 1909. Finally in the autumn of 1923 it was thought wise to take the large boys nearer their work and the small girls not so far from the dining-room, so another change was effected, and Home One saw another move. For twenty-nine years it has been a home for students, both boys and girls. What an interesting lot of tales it could tell. Today it is the home of one hundred and sixty young men. For many it is their only real home. These boys have made their rooms attractive with pictures, souvenirs and prizes they have won. No account of Home One is complete without mentioning Mother Wind, who for many year made these quarters a pleasant place for her boys. The spirit of Home One at its best is the spirit of this splendid woman who gave a large part of her life to her people. Today Mrs. Lena Green is ably carrying out the same fine work that Mother Wind did for the young men of Chilocco.

HOME TWO

QUINCEY OWL '28

OME TWO, THE oldest building on the campus, was built in 1883, from native stone quarried in our own quarries. It has served as a home for both boys and girls, as kitchen and dining room, and as classrooms. With this sturdy old building our school began, and it has stood firm and straight through everything. Once it housed the Employees' Club; once the hospital. But it has never been heard to complain. In 1899 a sister home was erected and only boys were left in the original building. After pioneering she was getting a much needed rest. Then the large boys were given a home of their own. Finally in 1923 the erection of the Employees' building gave the old Home another rest, after all these years of hard labor she was left with only the small boys to care for, and the hospital. But better things were in store for her, for in 1926 the new hospital was erected and Home Two is now the home of two hundred and thirty-five small boys. She has always liked the younger generation and she sits and smile at her beloved children. As all venerable and dignified people this old building has the respect and admiration of all the campus. She may not shine and be as new as some of the others, but she knows things and she has a warm heart. Miss Rose Daugherty has for many years taken care of the lads who lives in these rooms; and she, old Home Two and the boys are fast friends.

HOME THREE

ELLA JONES '23

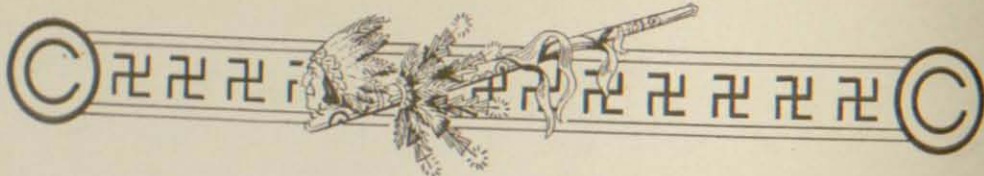

IN 1893 A HOME was erected for the large boys. Here they lived until 1923 when they were transferred to what had been Home Three, and the small girls were housed in this fine stone building which stands in front of the Superintendent's cottage. Since it has become the quarters for the smallest girls of the school, much has been done to beautify it. The vines have covered it lovingly for many years; but recently flower beds and shrubs have been added to make it attractive. The matron with a group of small girls begins early in the spring to paint the porch furniture, fill flower boxes and prepare the beds. Around the back and north side is a large playground, equipped with modern apparatus, croquet court and baseball diamond. This does much to make this building a home for two hundred girls. For several years the Minnehaha Literary Society have made their home in the north reading room. Home Three also has the distinction of always sending her girls out to meals with music. One of the girls plays a march as the companies file out of the basement. When this Home became the headquarters for the little girls, Mrs. Amos Beezley was the matron. Mrs. Carrie Robinson is now in charge, with an assistant, Mrs. Maude S. Lennox. Home Three is a real home for small girls, where they have their own playgrounds, their own flowers, and their own good times.

HOME FOUR

LILLIAN JESSAN '28

HOME FOUR is the youngest of them all. For many years after the establishment of our school the large girls were housed with the small ones. Finally in 1903 another home was added and Home Four began her useful life just west of the lake. This building has always been characterized by its dignity, tranquility and beauty. Not only is it always spotless on the interior, but the surroundings are beautifully kept. Covered with Virginia Creeper, surrounded by shrubs, it is a fitting setting for two hundred young Indian women who when they leave Chilocco will establish homes of their own. Four matrons have worked for the honor and advancement of Home Four. Mrs. E. K. Miller, 1903; Miss Jennie Brunk, 1907; Miss Madder, 1909; and Miss McCormick who has for many years made these quarters a pleasant and happy place to live. Every year Indian girls learn here the value of an attractive room and how to make their own neat and pleasant. There are rules to be followed here just the same as in any other well-regulated home. In this way order and dignity are maintained. Home Four never fails to receive her share of the honors during inspection. The individual rooms, where two or more girls live, are decorated as attractively as those of any college girl. Here too, the Hiawatha Literary Society has met for many years.

THE SAGA

JUANITA J. KEELE

IN THE FALL of the year 1922 one hundred and sixty members of the seventh grade assembled in the Haworth Hall auditorium for a business meeting. The president, Mose Childers, presided. Miss Jane Hendrix and Mrs. Margaret Pearson-Speelman were sponsors of the meeting. At this early date the class flower, the Lilac, the motto, "Loyalty," and the class colors Purple and White, were chosen.

The next year Class '28 was greatly decreased in number. We began the autumn semester with one hundred and thirty-two members. During this year, as the eighth grade, we celebrated the championship won by our class teams in inter-class football and basketball. None of the school teams have ever lacked a member of Class '28. This same year it was, that our banner was made by members of the Home Economics class, carrying our motto, our emblem, and our colors. We have carried this banner, the first to be made by any class, through to the present time.

During our Freshman year, as members of the American Junior Red Cross, one of the girls' classes wrote and presented a health play in chapel entitled "The Medicine Man." It was later submitted to the Red Cross Association, entered in a contest, and was awarded first place. We were presented a framed picture, "The Oath of Knighthood." That spring the Freshman team won the championship in baseball.

In 1926 Francis Kekahbah was awarded first place in an Oratorical Contest and a scholarship at Southwestern College, Winfield, Kansas. That year our Sophomore Class numbered little over a half a hundred.

At the close of our Junior year the first Senior Class was graduated.

We began this, our Senior year, full of hope and ambition, with twenty-eight members; twelve girls and sixteen boys. But our hopes were blighted at the death of our beloved classmate, Frank Louwalk, Jr., early in February; and the departure of James Green and Clarence Hawkins in March, unfortunate victims of poor health.

Francis Kekahbah again brought honor to '28 and his school by winning first place and the Gold Key in the Boys' Baritone Contest at the annual Southwestern College Musical Meet held in Winfield, Kansas.

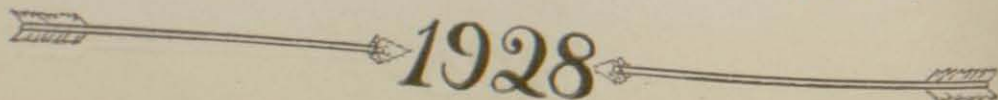

Hence, we have reached the climax of our history with twenty-six members. Each of us must now begin our life's work away from our beloved school and classmates.

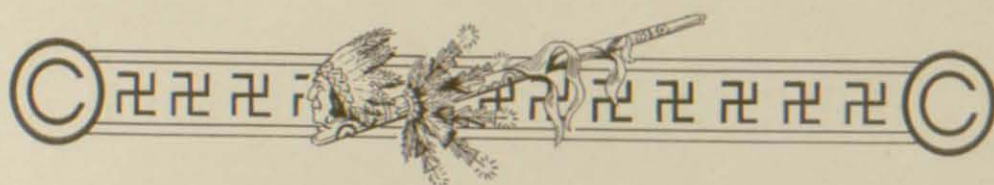

Still loyal and peaceful, we approach the end of our old trail, Commencement, where we take up a new one.

THE WILL AND BEQUESTS OF THE LATE CLASS OF 1928

(That word late has more than one interpretation.)

We, The SENIOR CLASS of the Chilocco Indian Agricultural School, realizing that we are soon to depart from this institution of learning, do hereby execute this last will and testament, in the hope that some of our many and various talents may be fostered in our schoolmates and continue to be a power for good in our beloved School.

ARTICLE I.

To MR. LAWRENCE E. CORRELL, our Superintendent, we bestow our Gratitude and Appreciation. We also promise him the same support as Alumni we have given him as students.

To MR. REY F. HEAGY, our Principal, and MEMBERS OF THE FACULTY, who have so faithfully dealt with us, we bequeath our everlasting devotion and thankful hearts.

Lastly to the JUNIOR CLASS we bequeath the above mentioned talents to be used by them as Seniors for the Glory of their Class and the Honor of their school.

ARTICLE II.

I, JOHN FRAZIER, do bestow upon Charles Wolfe my place on the Track Team.

I, MARTHA GEORGE, do bestow my permanent wave and giggle to Esther Locust.

I, FRANCIS KEKAHBAH, do bestow upon "Shorty" Ellison my basketball suit.

I, RANDOLPH IRWIN, wish it thoroughly understood that Dutch Lively is to be sole owner of my saxophone.

I, JESSIE WOLFE, bequeath my dimples to Geneva Toineeta to go with her cheery smile.

I, JUANITA KEELE, do bestow upon Virginia Lonelodge my chair in the choir. She will be able to see much better.

I, JOHN STAND, do bestow upon Walter Rattler my position on the Baseball Team.

I, ELLA JONES, wish it understood that my officer's post goes to Cordelia Hughes.

I, JOHN FOX, bequeath my violin to Violet Pickard and my bass horn to Andrew Hill. I am sorry I am unable to leave my musical ability.

I, JENNIE GOULD, do bestow upon Gladys Lovett my place before the mirror. Keep the floor well oiled.

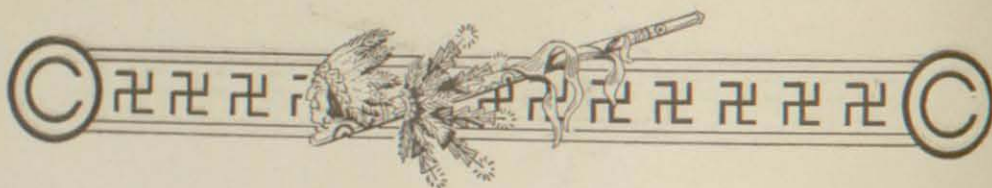

We, RUBY FALEAF AND LILLIAN JESSAN, do bequeath our stacombed helmets to Algernon Jenness and Laura Kasope.

I, VENA THORNTON, do bequeath my volleyball form and dignity to Thurman Rhodd and Rex McGilberry.

I, A. C. MCINTOCH, bequeath my hobo make-up to Louis "Speck" Rhodd.

I, ZELDA TAU-U-NEACIE, bequeath my liquid diet to Johnnie Mae Jacobs.

I, MAUDE CADDO, do bestow upon Francis McClure my best party dress. She can get enough for the needed ruffle in the sewing-room.

I, FRANK LONGBONE, will my recent hair-cut to the most original member of the Junior Class. It is collegiate.

I, NELSON ROWE, bequeath my colonel's post to Wiley Green. It is my greatest desire that Wiley should fill this position and carry on my duties faithfully.

I, MAMIE JUSTUS, to Ella Canoe do will my position in the Library providing she reads as many books as I did, and get as much glue on her hands.

I, TAFT SCUGGINS, bequeath my athletic prowess to Louis Silk and my engineering detail to Archie Tagg. I want always to feel that those whistles are blown on time.

I, LEWIS GEORGE, will to just any body my Physics. I do not care who gets it, for I never had time to really enjoy it.

I, QUINCY OWL, bestow upon James Ussrey my old steering wheel. I also wish him to look after the mail carrying fliver. He may drive as fast as he wishes and turn the corners on two wheels, as long as Old Faithful holds together.

I, ROY JUSTUS, will to Marlin Johnson my right wing position on the Football Team. Rough'em up Johnson.

I, R. E. HUDSON, bequeath to Edward Ellison and Walter Rattler my job as stage manager. Remember I never once let the curtain down on anybody's head.

I, DOROTHA KEOKUK, will to Anna Hitchcock my text books in nursing. They are broken in now, and she should have an easier time riding them than I did.

I, LILLIAN RIDER, bequeath to Etta Mae Wolfe my devotion to the Journal. I tried to have an article in the paper every week, and there was very little on the campus that got past me.

Signed and Sworn to on this Thirty-first day of May, 1928.

PICTURES SEEN THROUGH THE SMOKE OF THE PEACE PIPE

THE OLD PEACE PIPE went round. Every member of the class took one last puff of the Class Spirit that had kept this group of Chilocco students devoted and true to their school and their friends. Then for a minute I lovingly held the bowl in my hands and gazing through the smoke that slowly wound its way into the air, I saw a vision, the lives in miniature of all those who were graduated with the class of '28.

MAUDE CADDO. Maude learned to keep house at Chilocco and is applying her trade in a well furnished home at Anadarko, Oklahoma.

RUBY FALLEAF. A graduate of the Fine Arts Department of Southwestern College is now director of music in the Bartlesville High School.

JOHN FRAZIER. John, who was the "woman" part of the old Chilocco quartette, is now on a world tour with the Revelers, an internationally known quartette.

JOHN FOX. John is manager of a large diversified farm specializing in purebred stock specialties near Jay, Oklahoma.

MARTHA GEORGE. After leaving Chilocco she specialized in Home Economics at the University of Pennsylvania and is now instructor at the Cherokee Indian School.

LEWIS GEORGE. Lewis took a course in agriculture at Oklahoma A. and M. and is now instructor of agriculture at the Riverside Indian School.

JENNIE GOURD. Graduated at Northeastern State Teachers College, and is now Senior teacher of the Tahlequah High School.

ROOSEVELT E. HUDSON. Roosevelt is a member of the Carpenters Union and manager of a construction company.

RANDOLPH IRWIN. Still trying to master a saxophone while a "printers devil" in the office of his "ole home town" paper.

ROY JUSTUS. Roy is Sports writer for the Daily Oklahoman. He can pick the winning team a month before.

MAMIE JUSTUS. Mamie was recently appointed Librarian of the Carnegie Library of Wichita, Kansas. She got her early training in the Chilocco Library.

LILLIAN JESSAN. Lillian was always fond of talking, and is giving lectures on "What I Saw on the Planet Mars."

ELLA JONES. Ella in keeping the cook stove burning near Idabel, Oklahoma. Call on her for a square meal.

JUANITA KEELE. Juanita is doing humanity a good turn by keeping the city of Ardmore supplied with hats from her Millinery Store.

DOROTHA KEOKUK. If you feel wounded see "Dot" in the Research Hospital in Kansas City. She is an R. N.

FRANCIS KEKAHEAH. With the voice of Cicero and the volume and richness of Caruso, he has not yet reached the height of fame, with the Mendelssohn Choir.

FRANK LONGBONE. When your feel down-hearted look for Frank's page in College Humor.

A. C. MCINTOCH. "Alex" has become Sidney Smith's assistant cartoonist and he says he will have Chester Gump wearing long trousers in the next five years.

QUINCY OWL. When you receive a return letter, you'll know Quincy has seen it. He is employed in the Dead Letter Office.

LILLIAN RIDER. "Bubbles" is an expert stenographer, she wears out a typewriter a day for the Barnsdall Oil Company of Barnsdall, Oklahoma.

NELSON ROWE. Nelson is a pilot of Col. Lindbergh's New York-Paris Airline. Nelson always held a responsible position. If you wish to ride with him his plane is "The Spirih of Chilocco."

JOHN STAND. John swings a wicked bat for the Yankees. When he knocks the ball out of the park, he touches all four bags.

TAFT SCUGGINS. The Lure of Conquest lead "Jug" to New York, and his latest invention is a dynamo generating an "indirect" current.

ZELDA TAU-U-NEACIE. Her love for excitement has led her to the Belgian Congo in search of Big Game.

VENA THORNTON. "Boots" is helping to improve nature with a beauty parlor. A wrinkle with her is a back number.

JESSIE WOLFE. Jessie is a Victor Artist. Don't confuse her voice with that of Madame Schumann-Heink's.

EXTRA CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

HILOCCO BELIEVES that work in the academic and industrial departments is not enough for the best development of her young men and women. There are on the campus twenty-three student organization sponsored by employees who are especially trained and interested in the type of work being done in them. In almost every case we find the best work in Haworth and in the trades, is being done by the student who makes some outstanding contribution to his particular organization.

LOYALTY

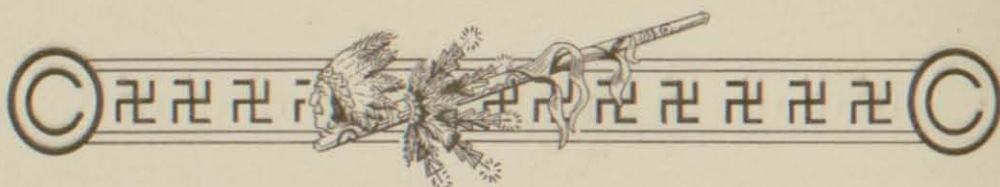

SENIOR CLASS SONG

Join in our group,
With a war whoop,
Time has come when we must dance away;
Chilocco days,
Will soon be o'er
We see the morrow not the yesterdays;
Onward we go,
Loving you so,
Teachers that have worked with us so well;
Tho oft we did annoy,
We wish to leave you joy,
Alma Mater now we bid Adieu.

Chorus

Loyalty, twenty-eight proceeds,
Joyously, as the years succeed;
We stand united,
No friendship slighted,
With earnest hope to lead;
Long may our colors ever fly,
For higher honors may they vie;
The years may come and go,
Faithful we'll meet them, so
Three cheers for Purple and White.

Time passes by
Onward! we cry
Pleasant memories will sometime return;
Standards on high,
Proudly they fly,
For our prairie school we'll ever yearn;
Honors we've won,
Duties well done,
Ever ready for what e'er befalls;
School days will ever be
Happy and gay and free,
Au Revoir to friends we love so well.

THE SPIRIT OF CHILOCCO

WHEN THIS sturdy airplane begins a new trip September first, 1928, she will carry a new crew, and have all new parts. The oncoming Junior class will be in command for her next voyage. But the soul of the old boat will be the same, the spirit will be there, the same spirit that landed twenty-six boys and girls the morning of May thirty-first, after a pleasant journey through Chilocco. Juniors, you will probaly have some stiff sailing along with easy going. Keep your own part well oiled, and in good repair, so that the last day of May 1929, may see a safe landing of an even larger crew. Guard carefully and lovingly—"The Spirit of Chilocco."

THE OLD BANNER

We own a tattered banner that we have loved for many years,
 It's faded now, but still we cherish it.
 We've carried it in victories, it's seen us shed some tears,
 It's helped us many times to do our bit.
 It's field is Royal Purple, it's lettering is White,
 The Peace Pipe is the emblem it displays.
 It's motto says, "Be Loyal and then you will be right,"
 Old Banner, keep our feet in decent ways.

THE LILAC

Just an old-fashioned flower, this posey of ours,
 But it's modest and sweet and demure.
 In the earliest Spring it fills all the hours
 With a fragrance that's wholesome and pure.
 And the books that the Language of Flowers tell about,
 Explain that the Lilac we praise,
 Means friendship and faith and an absence of doubt
 Between those who care for her ways.
 Each spring, then, classmates, wherever you are,
 When the Lilacs puts out her first buds,
 Remember the message she brings from afar,
 Of friendship and faith and our love.

THE SENIORS

WHO'S WHO

(While in the library the other day, I picked up an imposing book called "Who's Who". I opened it and turned to the letter "S". Then strange things began to happen. I could not make out the words. Dim letters appeared and disappeared. Finally "Senior '28" took shape, and the instruction to look for all my class mates in its pages. This is what I found.)

J. F. '28

MAUDE CADDO: "Juliet." Admired by Romeo. Copies her deportment from a Shakespeare play. Quiet but determined, for she has not let anything interfere with her completing her work. She was sent to us from Anadarko, Oklahoma.

JOHN FRAZIER: "Rudy." Behold the Sheik of the class. John is our ladies' man. Home Four makes a perfect background for him. His line is not studing, yet he has done much for the old School. He's from Duncan, Oklahoma.

JOHN FOX: "Foot." This is our jolly boy. The only place his class loyalty wavers is in his attentions to certain members of the Freshman Class. He subscribes to all joke books in order to always have one ready. He dwells near Jay, Oklahoma.

RUBY FALLEAF: "Dad." This versatile young woman is most at home on the piano stool. She not only plays, herself, but she teaches others to. That is not all she teaches either. She lives on Pepper St., Bartlesville, Oklahoma.

LEWIS GEORGE: "Lou." There was a time when he won all the cakes for his Terpsichorean art. Then he began to wane. We wonder how he spends his leisure hours now. He's from Cherokee, N. C.

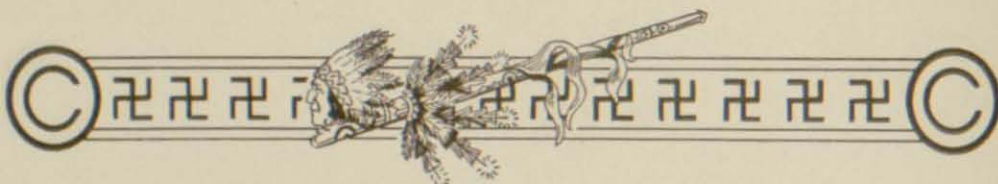

MARTHA GEORGE: "Mutt." Lou's sister. Another one of those mountain girls from North Carolina. But my, how she has snapped out of it. There is no one on the campus that can do more or do it faster than Mutt. For example the way she can collect rings. Same old Cherokee, N. C.

JENNIE GOURD: "Toast." A promising young pedagogue from the hills of Moody, Oklahoma. She is serious and she wants us to know it. We do.

ROOSEVELT HUDSON: "Cicero." If the original should come back he would find his equal in this dignified, earnest graduate. He says what he means, and means what he says. He goes back and forth to Smithville, Oklahoma, and he knows the way.

RANDOLPH IRWIN: "Jiggs." There is no Maggie in this case. He plays the "sax" as nobody can. If practice makes perfect he will certainly arrive. He is some editor, and a citizen of Henryetta, Oklahoma.

MAYME JUSTUS: "Bobbie." History would not be complete without this modern young maiden. She keeps the class about two weeks ahead all the time. When she's at home she increases the population of Tahlequah, Oklahoma.

ROY JUSTUS: "Flem." Bobbie's brother. Flem hates socks. They cramp his style, he says. He's after something worth while, though, and we believe that he'll get it. He began his civilization process at Tahlequah with Bobbie.

ELLA JONES: "Paul." Her aptitude for Rural Economics takes our breath. You should hear her sing, "Truly Rural." She takes the road to Idabell, Oklahoma, but she has never confided to us where she takes it.

LILLIAN JESSAN: "Rubber." She has the happy faculty of doing things happily. She's won a cake or two herself. She boards the train at Cherokee with the rest of the Carolinians.

JUANITA KEELE: "Nita." You'd think she didn't know how to talk, but she does. We've heard her. She gets her Physics lessons by the book-full. Her happy home is in Ardmore, Oklahoma.

DOROTHY KEOKUK: "Dot." She's all packed and ready to leave the class when the bell rings. We wonder what she does with all the time she saves. Writes poetry, perhaps, for she turned in some springy stuff about lilacs and such for the Annual. She plays around Cushing Oklahoma.

FRANCIS KEKAHBAH: "Knave." Our President. He's an orator, singer, athletic, and what's more he's a good student. About the most accomplished little thing on the campus. He travels overland to Kaw City, Oklahoma.

FRANK LONGBONE: "Skeezix." If you want this undersized little boy to feel comfortable, let the poor dear sleep. There is nothing much we can say about him for he could not stay awake long enough to be interviewed. He hibernates at Dewey, Oklahoma.

A. C. McINTOCH: "Spaino." Call him "Alex" and see what happens. Our class baby, cartoonist, and jelly bean. He sulks, but we all love him. He boards the train for Richardville, Oklahoma.

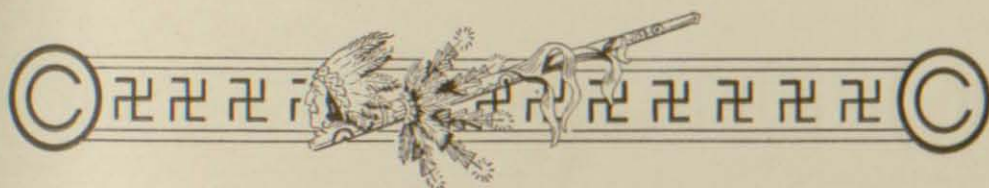

QUINCY OWL: "Romeo." All the way from Carolina to find Juliet. No Shakespeare character ever traveled so far. He is full of wild tales of his native haunts, and he tells 'em, while we listen.

LILLIAN RIDER: "Bubbles." She is short, sweet and easy to get along with. She has not been here as long as the rest of us, so there are some things she has yet to learn. She buys her ticket to Barnsdall, Oklahoma.

NELSON ROWE: "Colonel." It is doubtful if "Honest Abe" ever studied as much as this young Colonel. When every body else is away, he holds down the lid. It stays too. Pryor, Oklahoma, doesn't realize what they have to look forward to.

TAFT SCUGGINS: "Jug." The big man of the class. He can tear through a football line and dodge all players on a basketball court. We mean, he has speed. Look for him in the sticks around Southwest City, Missouri.

JOHN STAND: "Wee Hoss." Here is our "big leaguer" in baseball. And the Physics this boy knows, and the way he shines at Leupp Hall. Here is a lad of great promise. He'll do something for Stilwell, Oklahoma.

VENA THORNTON: "Boots." She's so nice and easy to get along with. Probably the class beauty. Takes her athletics vicariously through the efforts of Jug. She's happiest, she says, in Addilee, Oklahoma.

ZELDA TAU-U-NEACIE: "Gilda Grey." She belongs to the choir, because she likes the view. It gives her a broad outlook on life, she says. Life and other things, say we. She's a warm friend of all the class and works hard to keep things going. Grove, Okla, is looking for her about the first of June.

JESSIE WOLFE: "Puffy." Her initial always put her at the end of the class, but that is not where she belongs in accomplishments. Although she came down from the Carolina mountains with the rest of the mountaineers, she has deep roots on the campus, and has done us a lot of good.

CHILOCCO INDIAN SCHOOL,
CHILOCCO, OKLA.

April 8, 1928

To the Class of 1928:

As member of Chilocco's first graduating class of 1894, I have been watching and seeing this School make many wonderful changes, and it has given me much pleasure and satisfaction to follow your progress through the high school.

Things have changed in many ways since I was a student here; but there is one thing that should never change in the heart of a Chilocco graduate—I mean our devotion to our school wherever we may be. And you must remember you have been preparing yourself to take a high place in life.

You are going out from this school and stepping into this old world where you will have to do your own thinking and figuring to battle through life among different classes of people. My advice to you is watch and pray. You must remember that the biggest help in the world is to join with Christian people. Do some service for the Maker of all things, our almighty Creator, and serve him first of all and yourself and your business last.

May your Commencement bring you much joy and happiness. And may God bless you all, is my prayer.

Your friend,
Sam B. Lincoln, '94
Assistant Disciplinarian.

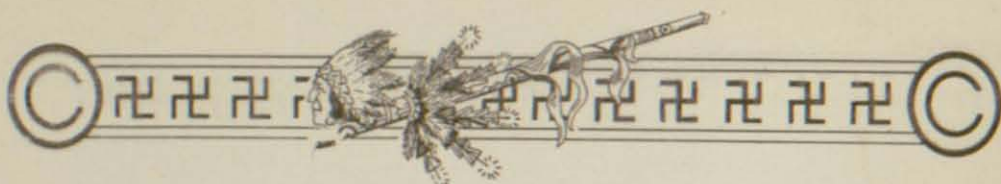

AMERICAN INDIAN INSTITUTE
WICHITA, KANSAS

March 21, 1928

To the Class President:

To most members of the Alumni Association the Commencement season at Chilocco always brings back to mind the fond memories of joys and pleasures which were theirs, whether in work or in play; and makes them pause long enough in somber reflection and meditation to visualize that the closing of one's school career is but the beginning or commencement of life's actualities. To this end the Alumni Association extends its congratulations to the Class of '28, bids them welcome to membership, and wishes them Bon Voyage upon the sea life.

Sincerely,
R. C. Starr, '16
President of the Alumni Association
Principal of the American Indian Institute

512 UNIVERSITY BLVD.
NORMAN, OKLAHOMA

March 30, 1928.

To the Student Body:

There is only one message which I wish to send to you, and that is, that I want each one of you to prove, while you are in school and after you are out of school, that you are worthy of your real name, a True American.

Sincerely,

Malcolm Hazlett, '20

Middle Law, University of Oklahoma.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

May 14, 1928.

Mr. L. E. Correll, Supt.,
Chilocco, Oklahoma.

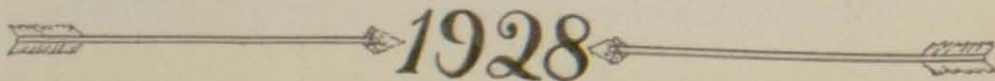

Dear Sir:

It is with fond memories that I write my brief message to the graduates and students. As the years go by I find that the many advantages that were offered me during my stay at Chilocco were often wasted. The world has a place for each of us. We must help ourselves while others labor to help us; with proper training and hard work we may be sure of success.

To the graduates, I am hoping that this is just a beginning and not the end. With kind regards to all,

Very turly yours,

Frank Knight, '14.

This little book is ended.

The smoke from the bowl of the Peace Pipe dies down.

Yet there is one bright ember still glowing. Keep it alight,

Students of Chilocco, in memory of the Class of '28
